Artist Statement

I have always wandered within my very own tiny inner world , searching for a certain artistic sense of being for sake of creating developing and even ameliorating art .

The whole idea come from my journey , the journey that could for a certain instinct change my ideology and vision towards doing my best int order to discover and enjoying who the real me .

And the pleasure was is and will always be the impact of art on me and also the world without .

“Cheetah “

Do you know?

how he got those black lines on his face?

_ They say it's to stop the glare from the sun during the day while they hunt.

There was a mother cheetah.

She loved her cub very much, and one day he got lost.

And she searched, and she searched.

And she called, and she called.

And she cried so long and so hard that her tears made black streaks down her face.

Diversity always improves imagination. Collage for me is considered as a mean of expression that could to a certain extent give me the chance to set different stuff and create a whole mixture of oneness.

Since 10/21 El Bahi expanded his art experiments to Collage, this collage collection came as a response to hardening conditions, from the loss of his studio, to tightening life circumstances, not being able to practice his art was the only difficulty he could not support. Thus, Collage to collage was born.

We chose to walk the path, to travel to explore. We don't know what's above us nor what we're walking over. We're ok with it. We keep on walking.

just chill

You have no idea the amount of creatures that dance with you, enjoy life through you and swim in the ocean of life when you do what life likes of you, when you just chill.

inside

We tend to build facades to interact with each other, to compete with one another and to conquer the world.

While inside, there's a mini version of us who just wants to sit and enjoy the view.

Perception

The thing that makes us identify as the traveler, the sand or the galaxy, is perception.

surrounded

Some keep their head down and walk for miles looking for water. If they took the time to lift their head up, they would realize it's already there. They're surrounded by it.

“Quest of the Self”

A captivating collection of digital collages that delves into the depths of self-discovery. Each piece is a journey through the human experience, where the serene desert landscapes, intricate geometric Islamic motifs, and the rich characters of North Africa intertwine to create a visual tapestry of emotions, memories, and aspirations.

supplication

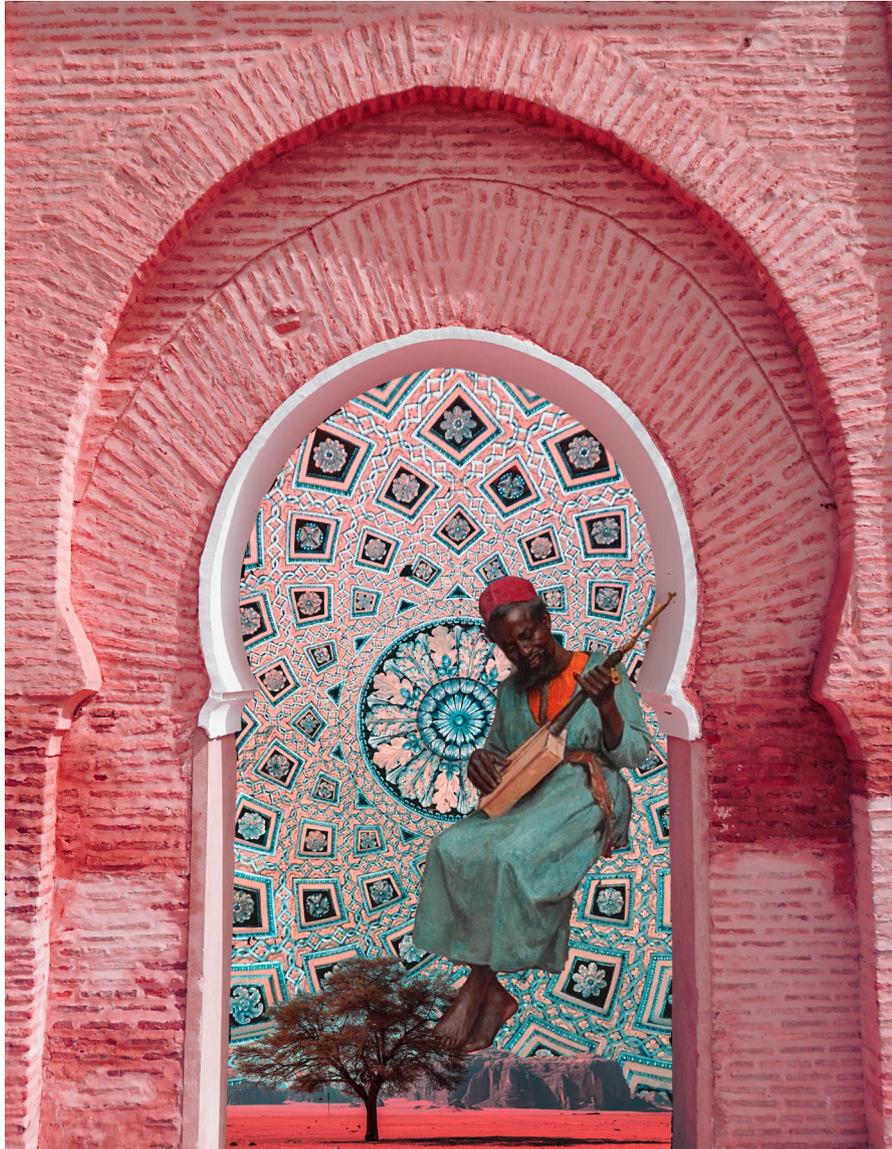

Relationships can't blossom unless there is meaningful communication. That's why 'supplication is the key to worship.' It is a sign of meaningful communication between God and a person.

WIRE SCULPTURE

The word “Wire“ itself identifies connectivity, and my interest in wires was a self reflection of my integrated connectivity with everything around me, especially with Art.

Self comfort is an instrument, a mean and a tool for a better living.

And everyone's intuition is always to seek their self comfort to keep on standing and holding through any circumstance or harshness followed by life.

That's why we have always been required to own a bit of comfort within our daily activities, whether at home, office, or any sort of workplace, and all what might support this objective is how to manage our interior design and setting.

How you desing your work/living location, moves straight with your comfort.

A brief work through years ...
